Introduction

Feng Shui is the art of creating harmony, health, and fortune in everyday life. Its goal is to make life easier and more conducive to the achievement of personal, communal, or institutional success. It achieves this by manipulating the physical placement of objects in space as well as the timing of construction events such as ground breaking or grand opening ceremonies. Because it is holistic and holographic, strategies used in Feng Shui can be applied at any scale in the physical world—from a single room to whole buildings, or even entire regions in the geographical sense.

In addition to the physical placement of objects, Feng Shui is also concerned with the forces in Nature which, through their interactions, affect and influence human destiny. The cause of any event in Feng Shui is said to be dependent not only on the physical characteristics of three-dimensional form, but also on the influences of their orientation and alignment, and on the intangible influences of time and history. On the one hand, “good luck” is related to favorable forms and their alignments—both on the local scale as well as in more complex arrangements of these forms in larger regional and geographical scales. But good luck also includes the influence exerted by the timing of events. Hence, Feng Shui can be understood as the study of the interactions between form, space, and time.

For this reason, the practice of Feng Shui includes parameters for optimal scheduling. This Feng Shui almanac has been conceived as an aide to architects, designers and building professionals. It provides ideal dates for contract negotiation, purchase and lease agreements, ground breaking ceremonies, moving into new spaces, energy clearings, blessings, and grand openings. It also includes dates which are not auspicious and which should be avoided.

Contract Signing & Negotiations

This almanac specifies optimal dates for signing of leases, contract documents, and purchase agreements. These dates are ideally suited for the successful completion of legal, regulatory, and contractual decisions.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies

Ground breaking ceremonies are typically performed at the onset of construction, whether it may be a large-scale start up or a simple remodeling. The purpose of these rituals is to promote positive energy in the site, smooth work flow, and the avoidance of accidents, legal complications, and cost overruns.

Moving into new premises

Moving into a space is a very important landmark, as it sets the “birthdate” of the space or structure. This can have far-reaching repercussions on the overall luck of its occupants for a very long time.

Blessing Ceremonies

Blessing ceremonies are recommended for all projects because they align the structure with the forces of the Cosmos and will therefore create auspicious circumstances for all parties involved far into the future. Site Blessings connect the structure to the land; Space Clearings regenerate the energy of a site or space in preparation of new or modified use. Blessings can also be tailored to the specific uses of the structure: residential rituals are markedly different from commercial or industrial ones.

Grand Opening Ceremonies

These mark the actual date of opening to the public. Grand Opening Ceremonies are important benchmarks, as they can promote growth, recognition, and success. It is recommended that they be combined with Space Clearing and Blessing Ceremonies.
